

Supplementary Figure 1. The “tiger’s eye” consists of a bright area of gliosis surrounded by a dark area of accumulation of iron in the globus pallidus in T2-weighted MR images. Images are from a 10.8-year-old male PKAN patient with dystonic movement for 4 years, a BFM dystonia score of 10, and a disability score of 8.